

Chapter 4 Review:

- Homeostasis
- 10 Body Systems (definitions and examples of each)
- Anatomical terms of location
- How/What someone with AIDS who has nausea/vomiting should eat
- Define autoimmune illness
- Atrophy and Contractures
- Where bones meet
- Number of bones in the human body
- Inflammation and Autoimmune illnesses
- Osteoporosis
- Terms of weight-bearing
- Hemiplegia vs Hemiparesis
- How to assist someone with one-sided weakness ambulate and dress
- Expressive aphasia vs receptive aphasia vs emotional lability
- Dysphagia
- How often to reposition someone with a spinal cord injury
- CHF (anti-embolic stocking and what it is used for)
- Hypertension vs Hypotension
- Respirations (inspiration and expiration)
- Symptoms of COPD
- What to observe and report regarding the Urinary system
- How to help residents with normal changes in aging related to the urinary system
- Perineal cares (always front to back)
- Ostomy Care
- Normal changes seen in the integumentary system with aging
- How to provide good skin care to aging individuals
- Diabetes (common symptoms and complications)
- Foot care for someone with diabetes
- Oral care for someone with cancer